Stocktaking for the Events Management Industries

Stocktaking you can really count on

Our extensive network of skilled professionals allows Stockcheck to offer industry designed systems and services to all sectors within the hospitality and leisure industries.

Event management is generally high volume, limited service time, and in most cases operated with temporary or event staff. This has the potential for high levels of stock loss, and because of the high turnover levels it can also mean large cash losses.

Remember stock is not always linked to Food & Liquor. Promotional material, or your businesses own products can also be monitored.

An independent professional stocktaking service is vital to the reduction in potential stock and cash loss.

All Stocktake UK stocktakers are trained to the highest level, and of course fully understand the stock control procedures associated with these types of businesses.

Our professional stocktakers will highlight many of the following areas, all of which are necessary to achieve maximum profit potential from each event.

- Stock control by multiple locations – Cellars, Individual Bars, Hospitality Boxes, VIP areas.
- Consolidate all your results into a full event result.
- Demonstrate stock controls to your staff – An effective deterrent is always better than reporting a loss after the event. The physical presence of stocktakers, monitoring stock, is proven to reduce losses.

- Cash and Float checks – Interim or end of period checks.

By tracking these key elements needed to improve profitability, you can quickly take remedial action – prompt action saves money.

Not only do we utilise our own industry leading software to deliver these reports, but our stocktakers are both knowledgeable, and local. Their experience, and extensive reports, provides you with the information to gain the maximum from your business.

“ Stockcheck is firmly established as one of the country's leading independent stocktaking enterprises... ”
